

Joan Liverpool: Profile. 3055 Constellation Dr. Melbourne, FL 32940

I am Joan Liverpool, an enthusiastic and versatile aspiring actor specializing in commercial and background roles.

Professional Profile and Expertise

- Joan A. Liverpool has over 20 years of experience in global medicine, healthcare management, and public health research. As a retired family medicine physician, she has participated in humanitarian efforts both nationally and internationally. She is organized, meticulous, and upholds exacting standards of performance.
- Her areas of expertise include family medicine, public Health, qualitative & quantitative research, community health, preventive health, leadership development, author with continuing medical education and scientific writing, public speaking, and health disparities.
- Joan possesses strong skills in strategic planning, human resource management, and program evaluation. She has successfully managed teams of over two hundred staff members and an annual budget of $21.5 million.

Education

- I am an MD in Family Medicine from Destiny University School of Medicine (2014) and a fellowship in Cardiopulmonary Diseases and Compassion Yoga (2016).
- - Doctor of Education (Ed.D.) in Higher Education from Nova Southeastern University (2000).
- I am a Master of Science in Community Health from Long Island University (1986) and have a Bachelor of Arts in Health Education from Hunter College (1982).
- Additional qualifications include nursing diplomas and certifications in Geriatrics health, HIV/AIDS and Other Infections, Social and Behavioral Health, and mental health.

Professional Experience

- Since 2003, I have served as an International Clinical Consultant, Educator, and Clinical Researcher, specializing in delivering comprehensive training programs and mentorship in diverse healthcare environments.
- My work has involved collaborating with healthcare organizations to enhance clinical practices and improve patient outcomes.
- In my role as a Professional Teaching Consultant, I have facilitated engaging small group sessions designed for medical students and healthcare professionals, focusing on practical skills and critical thinking. My interactive teaching methodologies emphasize the integration of theory and practice, fostering a collaborative learning environment.

- I have experience providing high-quality clinical care in community-based clinics, working closely with underserved populations. Additionally, I have designed and taught courses on health management, public health, and medical education at several prestigious institutions, ensuring that students gain a deep understanding of contemporary healthcare challenges and solutions. Each course is tailored to equip learners with the skills and knowledge they need to thrive in their respective fields.

Research and Publications

- I am actively involved in research mentorship, focusing on topics such as cancer, maternal and child health, and infectious diseases.
- I have published numerous articles in peer-reviewed journals and contributed to educational materials and community health initiatives.
- I have served as a reviewer for various health-related journals and grant programs, contributing to the advancement of public health research.

Certifications and Licensure

- I am a Certified Health Education Specialist (CHES) and hold various certifications in mental health training and patient education. - As a retired family physician and nurse, I have experience in adult nursing and health education.

Teaching and Mentorship

- I have extensive teaching experience at various educational levels, including medical schools and community colleges.
- I have developed curricula and training programs for healthcare professionals, focusing on practical skills and community health education. I have engaged in international teaching and training initiatives, enhancing healthcare education in underserved regions.

Community Engagement and Advocacy

- I participate in community health initiatives, providing education and resources to address health disparities. - I am active in mentoring programs and training for healthcare providers, emphasizing the importance of culturally competent care.

This summary encapsulates Joan A. Liverpool's qualifications, experience, and contributions to the field of healthcare, highlighting her commitment to education, research, and community health.