About Elijah

When I first started social media, everything I posted was all spontaneous and just was having fun with it. I started watching the numbers skyrocket and doors opened that I would've never imagined just from taking the time to post on a social media platform. The best thing about being an influencer is putting smiles on the faces that support me. I strive and make it my duty to bring a positive atmosphere to those who really don't have that. Sharing my interests on these platforms is what I do to bring joy to my supporters that have the same interests.
