I am a talented 6-year-old with a passion for becoming a superstar. I possess various attributes such as being a quick learner, being able to create different facial expressions, and feeling comfortable in front of the camera. Although I struggle with eating broccoli or fish, I have an open mind to developing new skills, both on and off stage. Along with my love for martial arts, I regularly practice playing the piano and sometimes enjoy horse riding. I also enjoy reading and watching movies, mostly dramas and occasionally scary ones. My goal is to shine my light and add creative value to the people around me.
