PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Nightview Capital, LLC

New York, NY

Equity Research Analyst

January 2022 – Present

- Identify, research, and pitch a robust pipeline of long and short investment ideas for a $100M+ AUM hedge fund and investment firm managing a long/short private fund and a long-only core equity growth strategy via the NITE ETF
- Perform comprehensive due diligence on current and potential investments through extensive channel checks, including direct engagement with management, investor relations, industry experts, customers, and suppliers
- Produce and disseminate compelling, public-facing research reports, including a comprehensive 90+ page report on the firm's top holding, which garnered significant media attention (featured on CNBC's Tech Check)
- Develop and maintain sophisticated financial and unit economics models for 20 equity positions and select watchlist equities to inform investment decisions within the two portfolios
- Meet with clients and prospects to share my research and promote the firm's capabilities
- Successfully launched the NITE ETF on the NYSE in June 2024, democratizing access to the firm's legacy long-only private fund by converting it to a public ETF
- Write weekly research memos sharing qualitative and quantitative research across several coverage areas including the energy transition, digital transformation, cloud computing, AI, TMT, synthetic biology, and more
- Mastered the firm's proprietary investment strategy, "The Nightview Playbook," contributing to the development of my own unique investment philosophy and process

Summer Equity Research Analyst

June 2021 – August 2021

- Interned for Nightview Capital before accepting a return offer for a full-time position
