Former Military Analyst with 6 years military experience, now writer, director and videographer. Consistently ranking amongst top peers in terms of performance and output. I am fast paced, very flexible, and do not stop until the project is complete. I have spent a substantial amount of time in both intern and leadership positions. With my adaptability, I can be a positive impact in any organization. My most important asset though would have to be my people skills. With my experience and talent, I am hoping to advance my career into the film industry.
