Get To Know Me

I am a 22-year-old beginner actress who's a full-time college student. I am a radiology major, but I also study film and theatre at my university. And I hold down a part-time job as a contract auditor for a pawn industry. I've had a strong interest in theatre and acting since I was very young; however, I have taken a very serious interest in advancing my career recently. I'm willing to portray a character and tell a story exactly as envisioned, and I'm seeking professional on-set experience.
