I am a professional footballer with a desire to get into sports modelling; commercials & tv shows. My sport keeps me physically fit with an athletic build and my youthful appearance gives me versatility in character portrayal. Playing football abroad has given me the ability to adapt to new environments well quite quickly. And my sport has provided me the necessary tools to excel in working with people from varied backgrounds and in teams. I've always had a love for dancing and performed in various shows and showcases throughout university putting on dance shows on and off campus within the hip hop and afrobeats genres. As a naturally enthusiastic optimist, I thrive in environments where I can be creative.
