

A decorative border featuring stylized black floral and vine motifs runs along the top, left, and right edges of the page.

IvyJane Griffin

contacts

Pullman, WA

Ivygriffin22@outlook.com

personal skills

Team work
call Robinson
quick learner
listening skills
leadership skills

A listening, hard-working, and collaborative team player is someone who excels in working with others to achieve common goals while fostering a positive and supportive environment. This person actively listens to others' ideas and perspectives, ensuring that everyone feels heard and valued. They are diligent in their tasks, consistently putting in the effort to meet deadlines and deliver high-quality work. In a team setting, they are dependable and cooperative, always ready to lend a hand or offer their expertise when needed. Their strong communication skills help keep everyone on the same page, and they contribute to problem-solving and decision-making by being open-minded and constructive. Overall, they are a crucial asset to any team, bringing both personal dedication and a collaborative spirit to every project.

skills

Jumping horses
riding horses bareback