

ALESSIA DE MARCO

This CV may be kept on file and distributed for employment purposes.

CONTACT

☎ 07748812327

✉ alessiabuck@icloud.com

London, England

PROFILE

As an enthusiastic and creative individual, I have a strong passion for the film, television, and theatre industry. Skilled in areas such as problem-solving and teamwork, I am eager to contribute to the development and production of captivating content. I am adaptable and thrive in dynamic environments, working collaboratively with diverse teams to bring stories to life. I am committed to expanding my knowledge and honing my craft through hands-on experience, and I am excited to learn from professionals while making a meaningful impact in the world of film, television and theatre.

SKILLS

- ORGANISED
- GREAT COMMUNICATOR
- KIND
- COLLABORATIVE AND A TEAM PLAYER
- FOCUSED
- RESPONSIBLE

EXPERIENCE

1) As a teaching assistant in the drama and music department at my secondary school based in Sunbury, I had the opportunity to support students in their creative journey and develop valuable skills in leadership, communication, and teamwork. I assisted teachers in preparing lesson plans, coordinating activities, and providing one-on-one guidance to students. My responsibilities included helping students to practice musical numbers on the keyboards and helping to sort through the student's folders. Additionally, I contributed to the organisation of school productions, ensuring that sets, costumes, and props were ready for rehearsals and performances. Through this experience, I developed a deep appreciation for the transformative power of arts education and gained insights into the process of nurturing young talent.

2) My involvement in a youth drama club in Woking provided me with invaluable opportunities to develop my skills both on stage and behind the scenes. I had the privilege of performing in the musical 'Bonnie and Clyde' at the Rhoda McGaw theatre, where I gained firsthand experience in musical theatre and elevated my acting abilities. Additionally, I participated in a summer film project with a day shooting in a hospital film set at West London Film Studios that exposed me to the world of film production and the intricacies of working behind the scenes. These experiences allowed me to collaborate with other talented individuals, learn from industry professionals, and develop a comprehensive understanding of the creative process, from rehearsal to performance. I am grateful for these opportunities, which have not only strengthened my skills but also fueled my passion for the performing arts.

EDUCATION

A-Levels

St Paul's Catholic College, Sunbury (2022-24)

English Literature OCR- B

Sociology OCR- C

BTEC Applied Science Edexcel- Distinction

GCSE's

St Paul's Catholic College, Sunbury (2017-22)

GCSE's: x8- Including English (Grades 6) and Mathematics (Grade 5)

HOBBIES

I have a deep appreciation for music and enjoy playing the piano, which enables me to express myself through melodies and harmonies.

Writing and reading are also integral parts of my life, as they provide me with opportunities to immerse myself in different worlds, expand my imagination, and boost my storytelling abilities.

When I'm not absorbed in the arts, I enjoy baking, which allows me to experiment with flavours and create delicious treats for my friends and family.