I am an actor mainly based in Switzerland. However, I also have living options in Prague, Osnabrück and various places in both the UK and Switzerland. I grew up bilingually, speaking both English and (Swiss-)German. I also speak French, but not natively. In younger years I did amateur stage acting. But my love for the profession was kindled during the pandemic, when I started to do VO-work. I now have acting experience in multiple different countries and have played major supporting roles in various productions.
