Presentation

I am an easy person to both talk with and work with (have I been told) when it comes to both colleagues and friends alike. I am usually an optimistic guy when it comes to most things and I also have a lot of different interests. Some interests might include history and geography or literature and martial arts. Some I have explored more and some less. I also find myself to have become a very stress free guy through most situations nowadays as I am also trying to build more muscle and a better body for myself. Other than that I also have an eye for fashion as I like to dress well for most occasions. I have long aspired to become a proper actor one day and through the years I really do think that I have built up enough experience to at least challenge myself with more difficult roles going forward.
