Dear Casting Director,

I am writing to introduce myself as a committed, versatile performer seeking opportunities within film, television, and theatre productions. With a background that combines both acting and technical production experience, I bring a unique skill set that ensures I can contribute creatively and professionally on and off set.

I am 5'11" with dark brown hair, brown eyes, and a strong stage presence. My performance experience spans from live theatre productions during my Drama A-Level studies to on-camera work at major events such as the Green Man Festival and the Esports Super Smash Bros tournament, where I not only performed but also operated cameras and vision mixing equipment. This blend of creative and technical knowledge gives me an appreciation for the entire production process, helping me adapt quickly to changing environments and collaborate effectively with all departments.

As a bilingual speaker of English and Welsh, I have the flexibility to perform in different languages and dialects. I also have a strong command of accents, including Regional UK, French, German, Spanish, and American, which allows me to portray a diverse range of characters authentically. I thrive under pressure, whether in live performance, high-paced filming environments, or behind the scenes, ensuring technical elements run smoothly.

In addition to acting, I have worked in production crew roles involving rigging, technical support, backstage coordination, and broadcast operations. This experience has strengthened my teamwork, adaptability, and problem-solving skills — all of which are invaluable in the collaborative nature of performance work.

I am eager to bring my energy, dedication, and creativity to new acting opportunities. My combined on-camera, stage, and technical expertise would make me a valuable addition to your next project.

Thank you for taking the time to consider my application. I would be delighted to discuss any upcoming opportunities or attend auditions, and I am available at your convenience.

Kind regards,
Leo Wright
