BACKGROUND/PRINCIPAL ACTOR

Set in a 1950's pet shop, Lucas plays a pivotal role in a scene where, while the main character is running to his office, Lucas's character engages in an unscripted moment with his mother. In a humorous and charming exchange, the character attempts to convince the mother to purchase another pet instead of the pet she had originally planned to buy. The unscripted nature of the scene allowed Lucas to showcase quick thinking, natural comedic timing, and a remarkable ability to improvise. The performance was so compelling that it led to a standing ovation after an 8-hour shoot, demonstrating the child's natural talent and ability to captivate the cast and crew with minimal direction.

ADDITIONAL NOTES:

Despite having no prior acting experience, Lucas was selected for a background role, later being upgraded to a principal role due to their impressive performance during his auditions. He demonstrated exceptional growth, professionalism, and a natural knack for connecting with the camera and audience.
