I'm a 13 year old aspiring actress based in Wilmington, NC. I love being in front of the camera, getting into character. I'm excited to start acting in commercials, TV, or short films and to keep learning and growing as I go.

I'm just getting started and don't have any official experience yet, but I love being in front of the camera. I've been practicing, making videos. I'm excited to start working and learning more.

I haven't taken any acting classes yet, but I've been practicing by watching performances. I'm excited to start learning more through real projects and future training.
