To Whom It May Concern,

It is my absolute pleasure to recommend Kasey Summers. I had the privilege of working alongside her for three years at Oceana Hotel, where I also became her supervisor. During that time, she consistently proved herself to be a standout employee as someone who not only excels at her job but leaves a lasting impression on everyone she meets.

As a server and room service team member, Kasey went above and beyond for our guests every single day. She has a rare combination of warmth, professionalism and attentiveness that makes every guest feel valued and remembered. Repeatedly, I witnessed her turning ordinary service moments into memorable experiences that guests still talked about when they would return.

Her work ethic is unmatched by the fact that she is hardworking, reliable, and always willing to take the extra steps to ensure everything is running smoothly. But what truly sets her apart is her personality: charismatic, genuine, and approachable. She elevates the atmosphere of any team she is part of. It is no surprise that guests and colleagues universally love her.

I recommend Kasey Summers without reservation for any role in hospitality or beyond. She will be a remarkable asset to any organization lucky enough to have her. Please do not hesitate to contact me at 323-215-8741 if you would like to hear more about her exceptional qualities.

Respectfully,

Frankie Shammass

Letter of Recommendation for Kasey N. Summers August 25, 2025 To Whom It May Concern, I recommend Kasey N. Summers for the Project Manager, Events position at Elevate with a mix of enthusiasm and reluctance. As Director of Dental Materials Science at Clinicians Report Foundation, with 15 years of experience in product design, branding, and evaluation, I've worked closely with Kasey for over two years. She's an exceptional talent whose creativity, leadership, and "no can't" attitude have transformed our projects—but selfishly, I'd hate to lose her. Still, I know her skills deserve a stage as dynamic as Elevate's, where she can fully unleash her potential. Kasey thrives in high-pressure environments, a perfect match for Elevate's fast-paced sporting events. During a critical live broadcast for our foundation, she coordinated talent, managed technical challenges, and drove real-time audience engagement, boosting interaction by 40% with her sharp instincts and cool-headedness. Her ability to align teams and vendors under tight deadlines mirrors the logistical finesse Elevate requires for events like the NHL Winter Classic or FIFA World Cup. Working with Kasey on the Clinicians' Report Audio Edition has been a personal highlight. I record the Highly Rated Products section, often stumbling through early takes. Kasey's editing wizardry turns my rough audio into polished content, seamlessly removing flubs while offering patient, encouraging feedback. Over the past year, her guidance has measurably improved my delivery, showcasing her knack for mentoring and creating a supportive team environment. This skill, paired with her technical expertise, makes her ideal for leading Elevate's cross-functional teams and ensuring client satisfaction. Kasey's passion for media and her relentless drive to master any challenge set her apart. Whether she's learning new tools or keeping projects on budget, she approaches everything with kindness and professionalism that inspires those around her. Her love for storytelling and high-energy settings aligns perfectly with crafting Elevate's memorable fan experiences. While I'd love to keep her here, I know her talents are ready for a bigger platform. I wholeheartedly—but reluctantly—endorse Kasey for this role. She'll exceed your expectations. Please contact me at 801-859-3939 or JaxFinn@proton.me for further discussion. Sincerely, Chris Howell Director of Dental Materials Science Clinicians Report Foundation

I recommend Kasey Summers, whom I have known for thirty years as a classmate and friend throughout our lives in various institutions. I had the liberty to observe her character and dedication firsthand, and I am honored to offer my support.

Ms. Summers is a diligent and creative individual who, when put under pressure, can excel in innovation and perspicacity. She consistently demonstrates leadership, adaptability, project management, and critical thinking, to name a few of her skills and traits. She has assisted in coordinating plans and events to run as smoothly as possible. Even with unforeseen circumstances, she was able to adjust for optimal experiences. However, when everything is planned in a certain way, there is no telling what can happen, but being able to handle situations and direct solutions illustrates how an individual handles themselves under pressure and takes responsibility.

In addition to Ms. Summers' mentioned skills, she also excels in teamwork, collaboration, integrity, willingness to learn, and empathy. In our youth, she was involved with many extracurricular activities, and what stood out the most was her empathy for others. She was very compassionate towards others' well-being and inclusion by making sure no one was left out. She made a big difference then, and she will continue in her future. Her characteristics provide support to others and help when it is needed without overstepping boundaries. She is always willing to learn and engages in a productive environment.

I am confident that Kasey Summers' unique perspective, combined with her strong work ethic and collaborative spirit, would indeed make her a valuable asset.

Please feel free to contact me through my email if you have further questions. I would be happy to answer them.

It is my pleasure to recommend Kasey Summers, who served as the On Air Producer for Your Weekly Dose podcast during her time with us. Kasey proved herself to be an outstanding producer and an invaluable member of our team, consistently demonstrating professionalism, creativity, and technical expertise.

Kasey's technical skills are second to none. She is highly proficient in operating a multi-channel mixer, juggling multiple inputs seamlessly while managing sound effects, listener calls, and guest interviews. She was also responsible for connecting calls from both our listeners and high-profile guests, ensuring smooth communication throughout live broadcasts. On several occasions, Kasey handled remote broadcasts with ease, taking care of both set-up and tear-down of all equipment with efficiency and attention to detail.

Beyond her technical ability, Kasey brought tremendous creativity to the role. She actively suggested fun, engaging content for the show and was always in tune with both local and national trends, which helped keep our podcast fresh and relevant. She played a vital role in booking a variety of celebrity guests, and often proposed excellent ideas for future guests, demonstrating her strong industry knowledge and resourcefulness.

What I admired most about Kasey was her ability to multitask under pressure. Whether managing two computers at once, handling live audio, or coordinating behind-the-scenes logistics, she always kept calm, focused, and solutions-oriented. Her professionalism, creativity, and technical expertise made her an integral part of our success.

Kasey is an excellent producer, and I would hire her back in a heartbeat. Any team would be fortunate to have her, and I recommend her wholeheartedly without reservation.

Sincerely,

Sean Roberts
