Hello

I am Nathalie Vilasanchez

Many people know me as Poderosa Nathy. I am a model, actress, and self-taught dancer. I have always considered myself versatile, professional, and fully committed to every project I take on. I am constantly evolving and growing.

My main learning process has been through experience in front of the camera, constant practice, and rehearsal. I work with dedication, creativity, and passion, always delivering my best.

About me

As a model, I have worked extensively in music videos and photography, and as a dancer I have not limited myself to one single style. In recent years, I have been deeply dedicated to pole dance, an art form that has allowed me to develop greater strength and flexibility in my body.

As an actress, although I am self-taught, I have built my path through experience. I have a natural ability to learn scripts and perform them on stage with confidence and passion. Since my teenage years, I have worked on monologues and various theater projects presented in my country.

My Vision

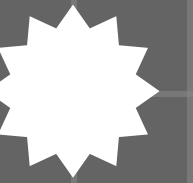

As a self-taught model and dancer, my art is born from instinct. Through modeling, I seek to break stereotypes and prove that true beauty comes from authenticity.

I dream of creating a space in my life where art, fashion, movement, and emotion come together. A place where one doesn't seek perfection, but presence.

My vision is always powerful. I believe in the strength of those who shine without fear, in authenticity that transforms art, and in those who don't just want to be seen, but truly recognized.

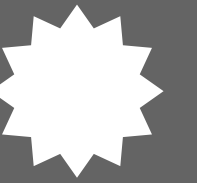

The Mission is

My mission is to inspire others through authenticity, strength, and elegance in every project I take on. To break stereotypes and prove that true beauty lies in individuality and bring passion, versatility, and professionalism to every creative collaboration
